About the Service:

The Television Entertainment Service is operated by the RBWH Foundation, the charity arm of Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital.

Through its fundraising activities, RBWH Foundation has been able to purchase new digital televisions and provide television services to the majority of inpatient beds at the Hospital.

Patients can view a range of Foxtel Channels as well as the standard television channels for a small fee of $12 per night.

Proceeds from the service are used by RBWH Foundation to fund medical research conducted at the hospital and to purchase vital pieces of equipment.

How to access the Television Entertainment service:

To contact TV Services, please push the PRESS FOR TV HIRE button on the bedside remote handset. This alerts the TV Services staff to visit the patient's bedside where they can arrange for the TV to be switched on and receive and process payments. TV is switched on automatically once payment has been made.

The TV Service staff are available between 10am and 8pm, Monday to Sunday.

TV Services can also be contacted on extension 61391 (internal call) or 07 3646 1391 (external call). A telephone answering machine operates 24 hours a day. Please leave a voice message with your ward and bed number and someone will return your call as soon as possible.
